However, it is important to always remember that when you put fine furniture into your home or office, you need to give it the care it deserves. Regular attention and maintenance of fine furniture can ensure its beauty for years to come.

FURNITURE PRODUCT CARE

It is important to keep the home or office in which your furniture is placed properly humidified. Wood prefers a reasonable level of temperature and humidity (around 72 degrees with 40 percent humidity). Wood should not sit near heating or air conditioning registers. These remove necessary moisture from your furniture and dry it out, causing additional cracks or splits.

Wood is a natural product. Sun bleaching will occur when wood furniture is exposed to sunlight. This will cause darker finishes to lighten and sometimes cause lighter finishes to darken. For this reason, try to avoid placing furniture in direct sunlight and rearrange accessories from time to time to prevent spot bleaching.

PROTECT AGAINST SPILLS & STAINS

Spills should be blotted immediately rather than rubbed or wiped. Time is of the essence when dealing with spills and stains on wooden furniture. For food type spills, use a cloth or sponge which has been dampened in mild, soapy water (no chemicals). Articles such as glasses, hot cups and dishes should have coasters or felt type pads on them. Beware of some felt pads that have a pre-glued side as some of these adhesives contain chemicals that can damage the wood finish. Always remember to lift objects rather than sliding them across the finish.

LEATHER & UPHOLSTERY CARE

It is important to remember that due to its genuine features, leather has natural wrinkles as well as color and texture variations. Leather surfaces on beds, sofas or chairs should be dusted regularly with a dry or slightly damp soft cloth - avoid using chemical cleaners. Also, and most importantly, remember to never rub a stain on leather or fabric. Always dab it out with a slightly damp cloth.

Suede surfaces should only be cleaned with a dry, stiff brush. Exposure to liquid spills should be avoided since suede cannot be washed or cleaned as easy as leather. Frequent vacuuming or light brushing is recommended in regards to fabric and upholstery items. Cushions and pillows should be turned on a weekly basis. Down-filled cushions should be brushed rather than vacuumed. Spot clean, using a mild water-free solvent or dry cleaning product. The use of steam or water-based cleaners may cause excessive shrinking or staining.

MARBLE & CRYSTAL STONE CARE

Abbyson's exclusive marble and crystal stone tables are expertly sealed with a special laminate protection. This select process helps to prevent scratches, spills and stains from getting directly to the marble itself. Use of placemats and covers is highly recommended and extremely necessary for hotter objects.

Remember to treat your marble or crystal stone top like you would treat glass. Regular glass cleaners work well for everyday cleaning and shining. Scratches and wear & tear are normal, as is with any type of furniture. However, you can add life and beauty by regularly polishing, and of course, avoiding the use of abrasive cleaners.

These exquisite collections feature versatile pieces that can become the highlight of any home. However, it is important to always remember that when you put high-quality rugs into your home, you need to give it the care it deserves. Regular attention and maintenance can ensure beauty for years to come.

RUG PRODUCT CARE

Welcome to the elite. You have chosen the highest-quality hand loomed Tibetan rug available. Abbyson has a few suggestions for maintaining and cleaning your rug, but the most important thing to remember is to regularly step back and take in the ancient craftsmanship and beauty that an Abbyson rug brings into your home.

Abbyson rugs are made of Himalayan sheep wool and pure silk. Himalayan sheep wool is astoundingly resilient and easy to maintain. By following some simple care instructions you can ensure your rug remains a long lasting family heirloom for generations to come.

MAINTENANCE & PROTECTION

Rotate your Abbyson rug every once and awhile. In time, regular foot traffic or sunlight can cause fading or uneven wear. Rotation will allow your rug to maintain the same luster it did on the first day it arrived to your home.

Regular vacuuming is the best way to remove the dirt and dust from everyday traffic. Abbyson suggests special care be taken towards the edges of the rug when vacuuming to ensure that there is no accidental pulling which could cause the knots to separate from the base. During the first year your new rug is in your home, Abbyson strongly suggests vacuuming at least twice a week to remove the loose wool which naturally develops on the rug's surface. Do not be alarmed by your rug "shedding" as it is a perfectly natural element of the hand weaving process utilized in Tibet.

After the first year, Abbyson suggests vacuuming as frequently as is commensurate with the foot traffic on your rug. Ultimately, vacuum sufficiently to keep any substances which could potentially soil your rug.

PROTECT AGAINST SPILLS & STAINS

Abbyson's handmade Tibetan rugs use an exclusive vegetable-dye process that adds a layer of protection against wear and tear. Although spills and stains on your rug should be avoided as best as possible, they can in fact be dealt with if a situation does occur because of the vegetable-dye. Regular spills can be treated with warm water and mild hand soap. Remember to always dab out the stain, never rub – rubbing can cause discoloration to the rug. For tougher stains such as wine, a teaspoon of white vinegar is recommended. Chemical cleaners should always be avoided.

PROFESSIONAL CLEANING

Abbyson suggests allowing only specialized professionals who have experience working with rugs of this quality when your rug requires any level of cleaning. Remember that under no circumstances should chemicals be utilized in the cleaning of your Abbyson rug.
